A Balancing Act for Players of Endless Games' New Dropsy Card Game

New York, NY - (February 21, 2020) – All you have to do is get three of the same color. Sounds like a pretty simple card game, until Endless Games turned it into Dropsy, the game where players have to hold their cards in some unusual ways.

In Dropsy (MSRP $6.99 for 2 or more players 8+) players take turns drawing cards to try to get three of the same color. However, instead of discarding cards, players have to hold them in the manner directed on the card.

Stop by the Endless Games booth #165 at The International Toy Fair in New York (Feb. 22-25) to see the Endless Games staff trying to hold cards under their chins; on top of their heads; back of their hands; between their fingers; under their arms, and more odd positions.

If a player "Dropsy" their cards, they have to start all over again trying to get the three-of-a-kind.

This silly new game is one of the latest in Endless Games' line of cool card games that already includes Red Light Green Light 1-2-3, Ochos Locos, The Name 5 Card Game, Jeopardy! and Jeopardy! Jr. Card Games, and the Wheel of Fortune and Wheel of Fortune Junior Card Games.

About Endless Games: Founded in 1996 by industry veterans Mike Gasser, Kevin McNulty and game inventor Brian Turtle, Endless Games specializes in games that offer classic entertainment and hours of fun at affordable prices. The three have an uncanny ability for discovering and developing hit games, having been a part in past successes Trivial Pursuit™, Pictionary® and Six Degrees of Kevin Bacon™. The mission of Endless Games is to produce high quality entertainment in board games that are quick and easy to learn but offer "Endless" play value.
